Success in Brief Podcast: Navigating A Career In Law with Rosanne Felicello and Alik Sofis, Quinn Emanuel

In this episode of Success In Brief with Rosanne Felicello, we welcome guest Alik Sofis, a Partner in the Boston office of Quinn Emanuel – the world's leading global business litigation firm.

Tune in to this episode as Alik talks about:

- Her path to becoming an attorney (including an internship with the New England Patriots)
- Navigating the path from being a new associate to becoming a Partner
- How she finds opportunities to demonstrate her skills and expertise
- The importance of mentorship and cultivating relationships as part of a career in law
- How her perspective as woman has affected her practice

Alik Sofis is a Partner in the Boston office of Quinn Emanuel – the world's leading global business litigation firm.

Alik is a general commercial litigator and trial lawyer, who focuses her practice on all types of business disputes, fraud and breaches of fiduciary duty, class actions, employment issues, domestic and international arbitration, and crisis management.

She's an award winning and nationally recognized litigator by Chambers USA, Law360, The Lawdragon 500, and Massachusetts Super Lawyers.

Alik is a Committee Member for Boston College Law Day and mentors students in the Discovering Justice Youth Program.

She is a proud mom of two young boys, ages 8 and 4, who keep Alik and her husband active and on their toes.
